

Qualified medical expenses

Paying for a qualified medical expense such as doctor visit or prescriptions medications is simple with your Freedom/UMB Health Savings Account (HSA). The money you contribute to your HSA is tax-deductible and can be used to pay for qualified medical expenses not only for yourself, but also for your spouse and tax dependents.

Changes to over-the-counter medical expenses

Effective January 1, 2011, expenses for over-the-counter (OTC) drugs will not be eligible for payment or reimbursement from an HSA without a doctor's prescription. This change is a result of new health care reform legislation. A few examples of OTC medicines that will require a doctor's prescription for payment or reimbursement from an HSA are:

- Acid controllers
- Allergy and sinus medications
- Cold, cough, and flu medications
- Pain relief medications
- Sleep aids and sedatives

Qualified Medical Expenses — Additional Information

- Items that are merely beneficial to an individual's general good health, such as vitamins, are not qualified medical expenses
- Remember to save your receipts and your doctor's prescriptions for OTC medicines for tax purposes
- As the HSA owner, you are responsible for determining whether a health care expense is eligible for reimbursement from your HSA
- Freedom and UMB HSA do not determine whether claims qualify for tax-free reimbursement
- If an HSA expenditure is not used for a qualified medical expense, a 10 percent penalty tax will be incurred. This has increased to 20 percent effective January 1, 2011. (The 20 percent penalty tax does not apply to payments made after your death or disability, or after you reach age 65.)

To help you determine whether an expense qualifies for tax-free reimbursement under your HSA, Internal Revenue Code Section 213(d) states that eligible expenses must be made for "medical care." This is defined as amounts paid for the "diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment or prevention of disease, or for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body." Qualified medical expenses are eligible for reimbursement through your HSA as long as they are not reimbursed through insurance or other sources.
